

Web 2.0 in Business Education – September 2009

---

District/Teacher	Blogs	Wikis	Podcasts	Moodle or other Online Classrooms	RSS Feeds	Social Bookmarking and Networking	Google Tools
Meg Perron, Baraboo (MS)	Uses weekly blog for current event, hot topic in the building, or other interesting topics
Julie Woletz, Cambridge (HS)	X	X	X
Pat Sowl, Clinton (HS)	Interested in using – Accounting & Graphic Design
Gwen Kohls, Bonduel (HS)	Uses for book discussions in a Professional Multimedia Course		Sales ad podcasts for a business, ties to yearbook ads				Used for webpage development, very limited options for creativity
Allie Wagner, Brookfield (HS)			Uses for Accounting (explaining transactions), Entrepreneurship (radio ads for their business), Law (summarize lectures) – all student created	Uses for all classes to post course materials and uses for discussions	Uses in combination with Moodle, students use for article reviews
Julie Beyer, Sparta (HS) EMERGING BUSINESS COURSE	Uses in class, Edublogs	Will use soon	Uses iTunes to create podcasts and vodcasts	Going to be using Study Wiz	Looking into using	Would like to use, filtering issues	X

District/Teacher	Blogs	Wikis	Podcasts	Moodle or other Online Classrooms	RSS Feeds	Social Bookmarking and Networking	Google Tools
Tami VerHagen, Xavier (HS)	X	X					Google Docs and Gmail
Miriam Fey, Sun Prairie (HS)		X	X	X	X		X
Jeanette Hawkinson	X	Soon!	X		Soon!	X	X
Laura Morrisette, KUSD		Uses in Accounting for quizzes, access to presentations
Nic Haug, St. Croix Central (HS)				Uses in all classes for course material access, discussions, chat	X		X
Michelle Ruggles, Bradford (HS)		Uses to provide course information to students	Students use to create tutorial podcasts on different programs which are posted for other teachers				Students use as a tool for saving work and accessing from multiple locations
Mandi Firgens, Evansville (MS)				Uses for her students to submit work – eliminates paper
Michelle McGlynn, Waunakee (HS)	Uses for online discussions, classroom site and student created sites	Uses for collaboration of article summaries and for student online portfolios	Students are required to listen to and summarize business, leadership, & tech. podcasts	Using for online discussions, posting assignments and presentations, chat tool	Students create a mash up page and use RSS to feed blogs and other online tools	One class is using Twitter and Delicious	Google Docs, students research other tools and discuss usefulness in business